

I thought that locker room ad at the Phil. football game was not something that should be on tv.

I also think the the show Desperate Housewives goes beyond what should be on regular channel tv.